Time for Spring Training. No, not baseball, Triathlon Training!

visit my blog at

Call it a mid-life crisis, but since I can't afford a Porsche, I decided to train for a full-on Olympic distance triathlon. So on April 25 I will swim 1 mile, bike 26 miles and run 6.2 miles at the St. Anthony's Triathlon in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Please support me in my project by contributing to the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society on my behalf by making a secure online donation at this very website. Remember, your donations are 100 percent tax deductible.

My own life was touched by Leukemia and Lymphoma when I worked in the Public Affairs Office at the famed M. D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston.

On race day I will wear a purple ribbon in honor of the many patients I met at M. D. Anderson Cancer Center. If you have a friend or loved who has battled any type of cancer, I will add his or her name to my ribbon. Just email me the name of your honoree.

The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society is the world's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to funding blood cancer research, education services. The LLS's mission is to cure leukemia, lymphoma, Hodgkin's disease and myeloma, and to improve the quality of life of patients and their families.

Team in Training (TNT) benefits The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society by enlisting volunteers to raise donations by participating in endurance events.

I hope you will visit my web site often. Be sure to check back frequently to see my progress. Thanks for your support!
